

THE CAYLEY HUSTLER

VOL. I. NO. 7

CAYLEY, ALTA., APRIL 27, 1910

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 A YEAR

A Successor to Hon. Mr. Cushing

The Edmonton Journal says: There is a rumor to the effect that P. E. Lessard, minister without portfolio in the Rutherford cabinet, will be appointed minister of public works, in succession to the Hon. W. H. Cushing, before the legislature resumes its proceedings on the 26th of May. Color is lent the report by the fact that Mr. Lessard is almost daily a visitor to the department of public works, and is noticed to be in close touch with the officials there, gleaned all the information possible as to the general conduct of the department. Mr. Lessard represents the constituency of Pakan, which the government thinks is a pretty safe seat, in fact, about the only district they would now consider safe to open. There was no opposition to the sitting member at the general elections, and it is thought likely there would not be any at a bye-election, although there has been a good deal of criticism made because of the course the proposed A. & G. W. railway is taking. The people of Pakan at the general elections were promised railway facilities, which unfortunately have not materialized, and the prospects of their realization are not of the brightest.

It was reported some time ago that J. W. Wolf, member for Cardston, would succeed Mr. Cushing, but such strong opposition developed that the government could not count with certainty upon carrying the seat.

Death from a Coyote Bite

Roger, the six-year-old son of John Troutman, five miles east of Genesee, Idaho, is dead from rabies, caused by an attack of a coyote last week. While playing in the home yard, the child was attacked by the animal, which, maddened by the hunger occasioned by unusually heavy snow, inflicting severe wounds about the face. On the day following the attack symptoms of the rabies were manifested, death resulting 24 hours later. Dogs were bitten by the same animal before it was killed.

Dominion Elections Next Autumn

It is rumored at Ottawa that the government intends to appeal to the people this autumn. Color is given to these reports by the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has decided to make a tour of the west in July and August, accompanied by Mr. Graham and possibly Mr. Fielding.

Wireless on Superior

All principal points on Lake Superior have been provided with wireless telegraphy equipments, so that it will now be impossible for any boat equipped therewith to get beyond reach of communication with land.

United States and Germany

The Boston Herald calls attention to the fact that well-trained German agents are invading Canada for the purpose of promoting German trade with the Dominion. The Germans are adepts in this work, as they have shown in South America and elsewhere, and by the folly of the United States they now have an exceptional opportunity. It is true that a tariff war between Germany and the United States is no longer in prospect; but if the Germans can get more favorable terms from the Canadians they will not hesitate to deal with them instead of us. France is already doing the same thing. This is precisely the outcome of the maximum and minimum provision which anyone with the most elementary economic knowledge might have anticipated. It is not strange that with such a prospect of extending her market in Europe Canada should regard with comparative indifference any effort on our part to injure her. Perhaps this time we ourselves will have to go to Canossa.

Noted Indian Chief Dies

A despatch of April 21st from Kenora, Ont., says: News has just reached here of the death of Head Chief Powason, of the Lake of the Woods band of Indians. Deceased was about 70 years of age, and was the leading chief of all the Indians in this district, having been the first Indian chief recognized by the government.

NEW TELEPHONES

Cayley District Government Telephone System to be Put In at an Early Date

A largely represented meeting was held in McDonald's Hall on Thursday evening, April 14th, to discuss and sign contracts for local telephones. A large number signed, and the government representative promised that the lines running north and south-east and north and south-west would be put in at once. There is no doubt that this will be a great boon to the town and to the country also. Cayley has also applied for an exchange, as there will be several town phones.

In Canada a Chinaman can become a British subject, but this does not permit him to vote or take up land. The only advantage to a Chink in being a British subject is that he can go to China and return without again paying the $500 tax.

The price of wheat is at present on a downward grade, and those who have been holding for higher prices will have some difficulty in realizing last fall's figures if the drop continues much longer.

A burning straw pile started a fire in the Hazelmere district last week which ran for nearly three miles before the farmers of the neighborhood could stop it. Some of the farmers suffered severe loss

The opinion is growing that stack fires at this time of the year ought to be prohibited entirely. With the most elaborate precautions they are liable to "getaway" from those in charge, with disastrous results.

What Hustler Readers Can Do

The reason why some towns grow is because there are men of push and energy in it who were not afraid to spend their time and money to boom their town. They erect substantial buildings, organize stock companies and establish factories, secure railroads, work for public improvements, and use every means in their power to induce people to locate in their city. Wherever they go they tell of the advantages of their town, they write about them in every letter, they send circulars and newspapers to all whom they can get to visit the city, and when anyone visits them treat them so kindly that he falls in love with them and their city at once. It is enterprise and everyone pulling together that makes a progressive town, and don't let the fact escape your memory.

N. G. Boggs of Saskatoon is reported to have purchased 80,000 acres in the Beaver Hills district, at a little over $10 an acre. The land is bought from J. A. Powell and T. W. Lines of Edmonton.

all the way through, you want every can of paint to be Pure Paint through and through. We know enough about paint to say without fear of contradiction, that painters seldom find an all pure paint. Some adulteration is put in for bulk or to cheapen. We bought a lot of—

to meet the demands of our friends and customers for a guaranteed Pure Paint—Pure white Lead, Pure Oxide of Zinc, Pure Linseed Oil only are used with, of course, the necessary coloring ingredients and dryer.

Come in our store and see the difference in this paint with other brands. Two gallons of Martin-Senour Paint will cover as much space as three gallons of other makes.

E. W. CASPELL, Hardware Merchant.

A Farmer's Straight Talk to His Brother Farmer

I believe we should build up our own community and enable home merchants to give us as good a market for our products by standing by them. We can buy all that we need, and as cheaply by doing business at home, and thus make a better market for our produce.

How can we expect our home stores to thrive and grow, if we farmers refuse to trade with them by sending our money to some distant city, which does not interest us or help us in the least?

While there is always a standard price for some kinds of farmers' produce, how can we expect the country or town merchants to buy our eggs, butter, poultry and other products so vital to us all, if we do not reciprocate to our town merchant?

Is it not our object to build up our market town and make markets for our products? Does it not add to the value of our land for us to be able to point to some near-by town, with a ready market, school and church advantages? Is not land so situated worth more than if it is isolated and distant from everything and everybody?

By standing by our home merchants we are standing by each other, we all thrive and prosper together.

Is it to our interests to build great houses in distant cities? I make the broad assertion that some things on the surface, may seem cheaper than the prices of our home merchants, after we skimped ourselves to get the cash and paid the freight and other charges, and paid for things we do not need because they seem cheap, we are actually out of pocket;

we are simply gulled by cormorants.

If we keep depressing and destroying our home merchants we will find after a lifetime, that our farms are in an isolated region, and have not increased in value as they would if we had made a market at our own very door.

I know farmers who are always in debt to our local merchants while their cash has gone to the railroad for freight bills and to the catalogue houses for articles which do not rank as either luxuries or necessities, but simply as leg pullers to quell the unsophisticated.

How would you appreciate selling your stock and products on credit, and the purchaser using his money for buying similar articles in a distant market for cash, and keep you out of your money from one to five years, and perhaps in the end never pay you at all? Unless we stand together and refuse to build up and develop these cormorants who prey upon us, we do not deserve to have thriving towns for markets, or the advantages which always come from being surrounded by a business community.

Settlers arriving in Canada from the United States give some weird accounts of stories being circulated by trainmen, commercial travelers and merchants along the line in North Dakota. These people see the best class of farmers slipping from their grasp, and do their best to deter the intending settler from moving any further towards Canada, but notwithstanding all the stories crowds of settlers continue to pour through this gateway, bound for the Canadian West and say the treatment they receive from the Canadian officials at the boundary is away beyond anything they had anticipated.

Junior League Concert

Probably one of the finest concerts ever given by children was given in the Cayley Methodist church last Friday evening by the Junior Epworth League. Every one of the large crowd that attended enjoyed it to its full. The success of the entertainment was largely due to the untiring efforts of the young president, Miss Eva Eaglesham. The proceeds went to the buying of a library for the Sunday School, which all the children will certainly enjoy. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers. The following was the program:

- 1 Piano Solo
- 2 Song - Cora Fern and Ethel Barker
- 3 Doll Drill - Eight little girls
